

Successful IPLE Seminar held in Milan, Italy

WELCOME TO THE INEPS NEWSLETTER

As we promised at the IPLE Seminar we have expanded and updated the INEPS List serve. So for many of you this is your first copy of the monthly INEPS Newsletter. Welcome and we hope you find it informative and enjoyable.

IPLE held its' 14th International Seminar for teacher training in Milan, Italy from October 19th through the 26th. The theme was "The Educational Needs of Youth in Europe and the USA". It was ablyled by Angelika Arnold, Heike Borkenhagen and Holger Mirow from IPLE and put together by Elisa Galeno, our host from Milan. There were many old friends and many new faces attending the Seminar. The Netherlands and Norway were new additions to the European family that included Cyprus, Finland, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Greece, Russia, Sweden and the USA. The Seminar was essentially divided into two parts. The first series of Workshops dealt with the needs of youth in various areas of society. The second set of workshops focused on areas that the participants felt they wanted to deal with in the future. These were concerned with curriculum innovations, evaluation techniques and international exchanges. Naturally there was time for individual interactions and taking in some of beautiful Milan. Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper and a football match between Milan and Munich were some extracurricular highlights. All in all it was a very successful and productive week.
