

INEPS

NEWSLETTER

JULY 2005 Volume 5 Number 7

INTERNATIONAL NETWORK OF PRODUCTIVE SCHOOLS

Today we'd like to remind you of the INEPS-Book-Project that shall be an entertaining information-brochure about INEPS & the different international projects. The hero who is exploring the INEPS-universe is a young alien called LITTLE JOE™.

Hi, I am Little Joe.

I am from a far away planet. And I want to tell my civilization about the INEPS experience I made.

Therefore please answer my following questions as correct & (or) informal as you wish:

1. Where are you (country, city)? And why?
2. How many teachers for how many students?
3. From where do you generate your students? Why & what for?
4. What are your kind of productive learning-methods?
5. Where do your students go after they finished the project?
6. How much time do you & your students spend together?
7. Who is paying for the fun you have?
8. How many of you have been on a youth exchange?
9. What do you hate (honest answers, please): your teachers? Your parents? Your students? The future? The present? Television? School? Myself?
10. Tell us the difference between PL & regular school!

I would very much appreciate, if you answered my questions together with your students!

Please give your input soon. 1 to 3 pages will do. And send some pictures, if you have.

For this little effort your project will be part of the INEPS-Activity-Bible!

Send your information & then all of you have a very pleasant summer!

Yours

Little-Joe

& my creators Kalle & Juha

You may reply through Juha Lahtinen at juha.lahtinen@opeko.fi

★

THE LAST CALL FROM FOGELSTROMSKA

Hello dear friends and colleagues - tomorrow is the day when we close the door at Fogelströmska. Until we get new e-mailadress Gun will be the contact person at: gunnilsson@yahoo.se Hope to meet you all again. All the staff at Fogelströmska and Gun

